EXPERIENCE

TUTOR - PROGRAMMING IN DESIGN Jul 2017 - Present

ST ANDREWS COLLEGE As a tutor of programming in design, I have provided direction, feedback and assistance for students of both Information Technologies and Digital Design degrees. I've found this position very rewarding, both to reinforce my own skills in the area and inspire students to be proactive in the studies and career using code as a creative medium; through which, their potential can be unlocked.

WEB DESIGN DEMONSTRATOR Jun 2017 - Present

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY As a demonstrator, I have learnt to quickly grasp how to speak to large groups in an energetic and educational way. In contrast, I also speak to students one on one; covering study content in a more conversational manner after and during lessons. Honing these communication styles has helped me to better read a room and understand the priorities of good communication.

SALES REPRESENTATIVE Jun 2016 - Dec 2016

LANGTON'S WINE BROKERAGE As a sales specialist, I learnt the fundamentals of a sales pitch. It was great working for a company that really invested in the customer. I learnt to quickly comprehend the customers needs; both conscious and subconscious. I could then give them easy to understand info about the product that suited them. This took the hassle of over abundance choice out of their experience.

ROWING COACH Nov 2014 - Mar 2016

NEWCASTLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL As a rowing coach at Newcastle Grammar School, I taught young people to work as a team and develop physical and mental fitness as well as strength and endurance. The most important takeaway from my time coaching was learning how to motivate people in time sensitive situations.

EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF DESIGN COMPUTING Mar 2015 - Present

THE UNIVERSITY OF SYDNEY This degree has fostered my passion to create enjoyable and meaningful experiences. I discovered this was a path to create something that would change peoples lives for the better. Design computing allowed me to transform my goals into a set of skills that allow me to create a change for the better.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT Graduated 2014

NEWCASTLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL As a vocal scholar, I discovered his passion for creativity through music. I was also fond of rowing at school, an activity that revealed the rewards of an experience that promotes dedication. In becoming a house captain and prefect, I caught a glimpse of what it meant to bring forth the potential of both individuals and the team.
